Markets and food box programs

About the Mobile Food Market

The Mobile Food Market (MFM) brings healthy, high-quality and affordable food to HRM neighbourhoods facing food-access issues. We get food into the community in three ways: mobile food markets, our Seniors Fresh Food Box program, and our bulk food delivery program. We're looking for someone to support content creation for our digital media platforms through photography and/or videography. This role is best suited for someone looking to build their photography portfolio or fulfill the requirements of a digital media assignment. This role requires a clear background check in advance.

The Role

Help us capture connections with our community! This role is focused on highlighting the work that the MFM does for the purposes of social media, outreach and engagement, and brand development. We're looking for experience and creativity in carrying out the following tasks:

- Joining MFM team members and volunteers during programs, such as community markets and bulk food deliveries, to capture significant moments and connections using a DSLR or other professional digital camera.

What You Bring

You are reliable, respectful, and friendly. You have working photography skills and knowledge of Google Drive. You have an eye for capturing emotion and community through photography. You are comfortable asking for consent to take photos and are sensitive to diverse individual experiences and situations.

How We'll Support You

You will receive an in-person orientation as well as regular one-on-one support from the MFM team.

Where and When

The exact locations for this role will vary depending on the program, but it will always be within HRM. This is an infrequent role and you can expect to be contacted a few times per season.

Next Steps

If this sounds like you, we would love to hear from you! Fill out our volunteer application form at www.mobilefoodmarket.ca/volunteer or contact our Community Engagement Coordinator at coordinator@mobilefoodmarket.ca.
